I like music because it keeps me calm and cool. It makes me happy. I listen to music to manage my moods, to enhance a workout, to bond with other people and as a distraction from daily life. Listening to music can provide health benefits to those suffering from certain conditions.

I thought that this song sounded really good and the electronic influence in the music reminded me a lot of something by Nine Inch Nails or Marilyn Manson. The song was really odd at times, but I liked it a lot and found it to be enjoyable.

It's like a jungle beat with a rolling stones influence in the background. The intro was a bit too long. I feel that vocals don't match the beat. The voice doesn't match the instruments.

The mix of the track is solid with the chords on the mix here, it sounds like a bop to me with the jungle sort of pop style here. Good vibes though.

I like the lyrics of the song and also the music. But I dislike the speed of the song. Let it be slow, otherwise the song is good and pleasant.

The sound quality was poor. The music felt far away and like it was recorded in a tunnel. I did not like the sound, flow, or style of the song.
